Kevin J. White is an associate in the Palo Alto office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, LLP. He practices in the firm's Litigation Department and is a member of the firm's Securities Litigation Group.

His practice focuses on complex commercial litigation, with an emphasis on securities class actions, shareholder derivative litigation, and government enforcement matters. He has successfully represented companies, underwriters, boards of directors, and corporate officers in federal and state courts across the country, including in cases involving claims under federal securities laws, derivative lawsuits alleging breaches of fiduciary duties, and challenges to mergers and acquisitions. Kevin also has significant experience litigating business disputes involving claims for breach of contract, fraud, tortious interference, and misappropriation of trade secrets, among other things. Fluent in Mandarin, he has also represented numerous Chinese companies in U.S. Courts and other U.S.-based proceedings.

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Kevin was a litigation associate at a large international law firm. He previously clerked for the Honorable Stanley R. Chesler, United States District Judge for the District of New Jersey.

He earned his law degree from New York University School of Law in 2015. He received a Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy, cum laude, from Amherst College in 2004.

Kevin is admitted to practice in California, New York, and New Jersey, as well as before the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Ninth and Federal Circuits and the U.S. District Courts for the Northern District of California, Central District of California, Southern District of California, and Southern District of New York.
